Teacher Training & Development

I have delivered online and onsite teacher training workshops, courses and trainings to many teachers, schools and organizations worldwide.

I'd be honored to deliver training for your school, school board, university or business.

Training fees are negotiable. Generally both online and face to face training start at $250 per training session (includes materials, printables, curriculum).

My expertise is in the following areas but see the list below of previously delivered workshops and courses. TESOL / TEFL, curriculum development, materials design, educational technology, reflective teaching, educational leadership, using video in the classroom, educational philosophies, practical teaching skills and delivery.

I have recently designed and published two new series of training and professional development materials.

1. Teaching English In English - an online course

2. Teaching the 4 Skills of English. 4 workshops taking a weekend each. Each one with a workbook and a complete primer on the 4 skills of English: How to teach speaking. How to teach listening. How to teach reading. How to teach writing.
